

THE MOTOR COACH.

FMC 2900R. Standing alone in a world of look-alikes, built-the-sames. Not a conversion of something else. Or an adaptation to anything else.

Rather, a totally new, totally-engineered approach to Motor Coaching. A bringing together of Safety. Roadability. Dependability. Luxury.

One glance gives you an inkling of how different the FMC 2900R is. Longer (29'8"), lower (8'4"), and with a wide track stance (83").

Sleek, smooth, moving lines unbroken by unsightly (and air-resisting) roof-mounted appliances.

Shock absorbing bumpers, front and rear.

A driver's door, for convenience and safety. And a mid-vehicle passenger's door, too.

A rear-mounted engine. Greater traction because the engine's in the rear where it should be. More efficient (no long drivetrain). No engine noise, heat, or vibration in the driver's area. Completely serviceable from the outside.

Unseen is the custom-built, fully-integrated body and chassis unit, sheathing you in steel beam lower framing and aluminum upper cage construction.

Likewise, the independent suspension at all four wheels, for a smoother ride. Spring-supported "A" arms up front and torsion bars (like you find in luxury cars) in the rear. The largest power brakes available, for a safer ride. And power steering, for an easier ride.

Step inside the FMC 2900R and luxury speaks back softly from every inch. Deep shag carpeting underfoot. Walls in easy-care vinyl clad aluminum. Cabinetry in rich wood grain with safety-padded corners. Color-coordinated drapes and upholstery. PLUSH!

Roomy, comfortable dining, living, and sleeping areas, both front and back. A lavishly-appointed bath, with separate shower and tub, toilet, and vanity. A "chef's dream" galley, with double sink, counter level stove, eye level oven, refrigerator/freezer, and lots of counter space. A custom driver's compartment with a shrouded dash and a full complement of automotive and household instruments, including a unique optical display of vehicle functions and systems. And tinted safety glass all around, everywhere you look, bringing the outside inside.

All the luxuries of life, like AM/FM stereo, tape deck, color tv hook-ups, and air conditioning.

All the necessities of life, too, more than adequately provided for; like 60 gallons of fresh water, 20 gallon LPG tank, 65 gallon dual waste-holding system, 30,000 BTU furnace, a 12v/110v electrical system, and 110 cu. ft. of storage.

FMC 2900R. Just possibly the best thing to happen to Motor Coaching since the wheel.

Ask your dealer about it. Or write us. Or both.
